ATTACK BY BURGLAR

At the Home of L. I. Stallings of Cook's Mills Monday Morning.

Early Monday morning a burglar entered the store of L. I. Stallings of Cook's Mills through the front door and took a Winchester rifle and several knives. He then went to the second floor and entered the bedroom of Mrs. James Hartsock, a daughter, and leveled the rifle at her, commanding her to keep quiet. He then went to the bedroom of Mr. and Mrs. Stallings and started to ransack the bureau drawers. Mrs. Stallings nudged her husband who sprang from bed and alarmed his son, Carlton, aged 19 years. They rushed at the intruder who fired at young Stallings, the bullet piercing his right ear. Then the culprit, a powerful man over six feet tall, began slashing the youth. Both father and son were weakened by the fight and the fellow fled.

As yet the police have been unable to make an arrest of any suspects for the attempted robbery. All points east and west have been wired a description of the burglar. It is thought he can be identified by bruises and marks on his face. The elder Stallings struck him repeatedly with his fist in the scuffle. He also struck him several blows with a gun, bringing blood to his nose.

In searching the rooms of the Stallings home after the struggle a loaded pistol was found. The robber is thought to have dropped it when Mr. Stallings knocked him down on a trunk.

Carlton Stallings, who was shot in the ear and stabbed in the hand by the intruder, suffers much pain from his wounds.

BEDFORD'S THIRD GARAGE

Will Be Built on North Richard
Street

A garage for the accommodation of about twenty-five autocars will be erected on North Richard Street by Milton Sammel and James Pepple. Last spring Mr. and Mrs. Preston Debaugh bought a plot of ground from Nicholas D. Lyons on North Richard Street, and they have sold part of this ground to Milton Sammel, where there will be built a new two-story garage. They hope to have the building finished and ready for business the last week in April, and have their opening on May Day. They will sell the Case Autocars, made by the old reliable J. I. Case T. M. Company of Racine, Wis., and the Hupmobile, made in Detroit. Mr. Sammel will have charge of the sales department, and Mr. Pepple will give the repair department his personal attention.

Mr. and Mrs. Debaugh have reserved a building lot adjoining the Lysinger Mill, where they will erect a building. There is a hint that a fourth garage may be built on the Fisher lot on South Richard Street. And the antique man is smiling because he will be surrounded by garages. He has his antique eye on the tourists.

Edgar K. Faus

Universal sorrow was felt here last Saturday afternoon when word was received that Edgar Kitchen Faus had died in the Altoona Hospital. He was taken there Friday morning, suffering from an acute attack of appendicitis, but when he reached the hospital, his condition was such that an operation could not be performed.

He was the son of Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Faus and was born in St. Mary's, Elk County, on February 6, 1899. Many friends deeply sympathize with Mr. and Mrs. Faus in this second bereavement, coming so soon after the death of their eldest son, Gerald, who died at the Altoona Hospital in November 1911, following a collision of his bicycle with a trolley car. Edgar was the second son and the parents have to comfort them in their sorrow four younger children: Raymond, Florence, Arthur and Keeler.

He was a youth of wonderful literary attainments and had contributed several excellent pieces of prose and poetry to newspapers. A poem, "Lines From a Freshman in High School," appeared in our issue of February 13, and several of his articles will be published in The Gazette the next few weeks. Since coming here last March, he won many friends and was a favorite with his schoolmates. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church and an earnest Christian.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist Episcopal parsonage Monday evening, conducted by Rev. Straub of the First Methodist Church, Huntingdon. Brief addresses were made by Rev. Eyer and Prof. Garbrick. The body was taken to Bloomsburg on Tuesday, where interment was made on Wednesday.

DEFEATED SUFFRAGISTS

Charge Dishonesty—Women's Vote
in Illinois.

Chicago, February 25.—Chicago suffragettes, militant and otherwise, are somewhat subdued today, but there is an undercurrent of bitter feeling over yesterday's primaries. In the first place they had expected to poll fully three times the number of votes they actually showed. On top of this are ugly charges of dishonesty, trickery, double dealing and the statement that women, especially those in politics, are far inferior to men when it comes to a matter of honor.

Miss Sara Hopkins, defeated for the Democratic Aldermanic nomination in the Second Ward, and Mrs. Marie Gerhardt, Democratic Aldermanic candidate in the Twenty-third Ward, also defeated, make flat accusations that their downfall was due to the treachery of "sisters" in the cause.

Mrs. Gerhardt, in a bitter statement exposing some of the dishonest tactics on the part of "comrades" ventured the opinion that the country would be infinitely better off if women did not have the ballot. Having delivered herself of this sizzling shot, she left the city for a health resort to rebuild her strength, racked to the breaking point by the vicissitudes of her active campaign. She does not mind so much the physical wear, but her spirit is sick over the "duplicitous" on the part of "sisters" in the suffragist cause.

Women Wanted $5 as Workers

Miss Hopkins came directly to the point when she said: "I was beaten by the action of Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout and the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association. It was the statement issued by the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association, advising women not to affiliate with any political party unless assured of success, that resulted in the light vote. I think Mrs. Trout and her organization will have to answer to the women voters of Chicago for the defeat they received at the polls."

"Nothing has been a greater surprise to me in my political experience than the dishonest women with whom I have had to contend. I would much prefer to deal with a man. You can rely on what a man says. The women are not to be trusted—that is a great many of them are not."

Mrs. Gerhardt holds the same opinion. "Several women called me on the telephone," she said, "and offered to work for me at the polls if I would pay them $5 a day. I told them I was not hiring watchers and workers and they then told me they would hire out to other candidates, but would work for me just the same. This means that they would accept money from other candidates and then play false. From this and other experiences I feel the country would probably be better off without woman suffrage."

Hard Blow to Cause

The surprisingly small vote and the evidences of treachery have been a hard blow to the cause. Returns tabulated today indicated that more than two-thirds of the registered women remained away from the primary elections held in many cities and towns of the State.

In Chicago the total number of women who voted was 47,529, or about 30 per cent. of the 158,524 who had qualified. The heaviest woman's vote in the State was at Galesburg, the scene of a "wet" and "dry" contest, where the women cast nearly one-half of the total vote.

Absence of important issues and stormy weather were reported as the reasons for the light suffrage vote in Springfield, Quincy, Peoria, Bloomington and other cities of the State.

Seven Chicago women, who had no opposition, were nominated for Aldermen. Three of them were Progressives and four were Socialists.

Two women, candidates on the Democratic ticket, had strong opposition and were defeated. Ten Aldermen were retired to private life. All of them were Democrats, and with one exception were opposed by the Municipal Voters' League.

In some cases their male opponents received the votes of more women than did the female candidates.

Blow to "Wet" Element

Galesburg, February 25.—Yesterday's primary startled the "wet" element here. Following closely the endorsements of a local option organization, 1,286 women went to the polls and nominated "dry" candidates for Aldermen in every ward. There were 1,375 votes cast by the men. The city will vote on the saloon question April 7.

Celebrated Birth of Washington

The patriotic meeting held in the Lutheran Church Sunday afternoon by Fort Bedford Chapter, No. 4, of the Pennsylvania Society of the Sons of American Revolution was well attended. Music was furnished by a male choir, and Capt. A. I. Lyon presided. The historian of the local society, Howard Cessna, Esq., of Rainsburg delivered a very able and inspiring patriotic address. Dr. Americus Enfield, vice president of the chapter, was the second speaker. His address, like Mr. Cessna's, was well delivered and listened to with rapt attention. The local camp, P. O. S. of A., attended the exercises in a body. The celebration, as a whole, was pronounced by all to have been one of the best patriotic meetings held in the town.

Lowerer-Baker

Harry Lowerer of Greenwood and Miss Barbara Baker of Baker's Summit were married at the groom's home Tuesday afternoon.

WILL LECTURE IN BEDFORD

Supt. of the Three Million League
Campaigning Against Booze.

Bedford and community are to have the opportunity of hearing W. M. Likins, National Superintendent of the Three Million League, lecture on "Can Man Live a Thousand Years?" or the "Colossal Fraud of the Age," Sunday at 2:30 p. m., March 1st, in the Court House.

Mr. Likins is at the head of an organization that is securing the signatures of three million voters who will agree to vote for whatever party declares for nation-wide prohibition in 1916. Thousands are signing the pledge, and it is being worked in every State of the Union. Mr. Likins has several dates in this county to fill; was at Saxton last night; will be at Six Mile Run tonight; at Everett Saturday night; at Bedford Sunday at 2:30 p. m.; at Buffalo Mills Monday, and at Schellsburg Tuesday night, March 3. These meetings are all in the interest of Nation-wide prohibition and the temperance people in each community are requested to assist in working up good audiences.

The movement Mr. Likins heads represents no particular political party and for this reason temperance men and women in all political parties can easily co-operate. As to the ability of the speaker to entertain his audience, the Rev. A. C. Powell, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Georgetown, O., testifies as follows:

"The address of Mr. Likins, delivered at a union meeting of all the churches of Georgetown last evening, was a masterpiece, full of philosophy, from start to finish. He held the big audience keyed to the highest point of interest as he delivered sledge hammer blows against the liquor traffic. It was pronounced one of the strongest deliverances on this question that it has ever been the good fortune of the people of Georgetown to hear."

Last Number of Course

The Alumni Association have for a number of years given the people of Bedford an opportunity to enjoy some of the best lectures, entertainers and concert companies at a minimum price, compared to other places, and much instruction and enjoyment have been derived from them. This was the object of the course more than to make money, but we hoped to make the course pay expenses. This it has not done this year. The sale of tickets for the course has not covered the cost of the same, and in order to make up this deficit, one general admission price of twenty-five cents will be charged for the next and last number, the Dollie McDonald Company, on March 4.

Before contracting for another year, thus assuming a debt of hundreds of dollars, the Association has decided to ask the co-operation of the public. At the next concert pledge cards will be issued asking for subscriptions for a course for 1914-15. Unless a sufficient number can be obtained the responsibility of another course. The Alumni have endeavored to give Bedford clean, wholesome entertainments at the smallest possible cost in their Star Course and Summer Chautauqua and ask the hearty co-operation of all.

In order that the expense incident to Commencement might be lessened for the graduates, the Alumni Association offered to furnish cap and gown for each graduate. All proceeds above expenses will be devoted to this object. Committee.

Seven Cent Sale and Social

On Thursday, the 5th of March, will be held a seven-cent sale and social by the Ladies' Guild of the Lutheran Church. There will be ice cream, cake and packages sold at seven cents. So remember everyone at seven o'clock on the above day. Come wet or dry. Please gather to laugh, talk and buy.

Inoculation of Clover

Inoculation of clover in this district has long since passed the experimental stage. I have seen many fields where the difference between clover from inoculated and uninoculated seed could be seen right to the line. This covers cases of dry-killing, winter-killing and choking out by weeds.

Nineteen thirteen was "carrot year," but carrot was much less in evidence in the inoculated clover fields. The reason is not hard to find. The spring was unfavorable to clover and held it back until the carrot got too great a start. But with the inoculated clover, the added vigor due to the nitrogen furnished by the bacteria enabled the clover to hold the carrot down.

We are told that lime will bring clover. That is generally true, and it always helps. But where we have been having clover failure this rule is unsafe; it must be lime plus inoculation.

In the spring of 1913 R. R. Sipes of Harrisonville, Fulton County, Pa., seeded clover on two lined fields, under precisely similar conditions except that the seed for one field was inoculated and for the other not. In the fall of that year the clover from the inoculated seed was as fine and thrifty a field of clover as I have ever seen, even on limestone land, while the clover in the other was about "fall in." Inoculation made the difference.

The best practice is to drill in air-slaked lime to drill capacity at wheat seeding, seed inoculated clover in the spring, harrowing the seed in, if possible. That will make clover as certain as is humanly possible.

Moreover there is clear evidence that inoculated clover is more permanent than uninoculated. A few years ago our clover used to stay with us so that the sod turned under for corn was largely clover; and then we used to get good crops of corn. Inoculation is bringing about this condition once more, making the clover more permanent.

The bumper crops of clover hay in this section for the last few years have been from inoculated fields.

Of course in the case of land that is actively sour inoculation will not take the place of lime. But it is unlikely that lands which have been farmed in the regular rotation have become actively sour. It is particularly necessary to inoculate in these sections where clover has been an uncertain crop lately.

It costs nothing to inoculate, except ten minutes labor for a bushel of seed; it can do no harm. Try it. Send me a postal telling when you expect to seed and how much seed you will use and I will see that the material reaches you and that directions for its use are sent.

Remember that ever clover failure affects every other crop of the rotation and don't take a chance of failure.

Assistant Agriculturist

Valuable Estate

Abram Stuckey and sons, Samuel and Frank, were visitors to Bedford Friday last. Frank was on his way to the West, after attending the funeral of his brother, William, and visiting relatives and friends on Clear Ridge. He expected to arrive at his destination by Sunday evening. Frank has been on the farm with William, the deceased brother, for two years and Samuel lives at J. Morones, and there are nearly two hundred twenty-five acres in the farm owned and operated by William and is estimated to be worth $200 per acre, low figure. This will make a neat sum for a young man to accumulate during a period of 23 years of labor and his many friends and relatives will appreciate the industry and frugality of this deceased patron of industry even if they have to lose his companionship in this world. The estate will pass to his father. The boys have practically decided to retain possession of the homestead. George, another brother, lives at Woodbury, this county, Clayton at Johnston and Albert at Darr, Neb. Albert was unable to be present at the funeral.

Ray Stannard Baker in his new department entitled "Seeing America," reports the new Chicago and its progressive people. Fiction is contributed by many noted writers. Renovating Orchards

Where an orchard is not too old to top-work, of course it is best to graft the seedling and unprofitable varieties to kinds that bring top-notch prices in the market.

But where an orchard is old and has become unprofitable through neglect, it may still be brought into bearing in from two to three years by one of the two methods outlined below.

Clean Tillage and Cover Crops: This method requires very heavy pruning before plowing time. Flowing cuts many of the shallower roots, and the pruning must be heavy enough to offset the damaged root system, or the tree may die.

Plowing should be early and shallow, and should be followed by repeated harrowings until early July, when inoculated clover should be seeded at the rate of a bushel to four or five acres. After the first spring harrowing, air-slaked lime should be drilled in to drill capacity; and at the time of seeding clover 200 to 300 pounds of fertilizer should be applied, made up by mixing one ton of 16% acid phosphate with three 200 pound sacks of muriate of potash. The cost of the fertilizer runs from $1.86 to $2.79 per acre.

The clover should be seeded from the grass box of the drill, with the dropping board sloped so that the seed falls in front of the hoes which are allowed to drag enough to cover the seed $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ inch, depending on how wet the ground is. If a rain is followed by a crust before the clover is through, the ground should be rolled with a light roller, to break the crust.

The large proportion of potash is intended not for the trees but to force a heavy growth of clover for turning under.

The same course is followed in the second and third years, except that pruning is much lighter and the lime is omitted after the second year. In the fourth year the sufficiently vigorous growth so that the clover should be used for the cover crop instead of clover; the return to clover being made in the fifth year. Too rapid growth must be avoided as it makes soft wood, which is subject to injury in various ways.

The effect of this treatment will not be felt until the second year, as the fruit buds for the first year were formed in the previous year; but it will show fairly well in the second year, and increasingly in the years following.

Each year plowing may be a little deeper, until a depth of five inches is reached.

The pruning should always be enough to keep good, open head.

Fruit from trees handled in this way will be larger and will keep better than from neglected orchards. Of course the orchard must be sprayed for codling moth if fruit of high grade is to be grown; and if scale exists, it must be controlled by spraying.

In case the clover fails to make a good stand the ground must be harrowed and 40 pounds of inoculated winter vetch sown per acre, late in August. Vetch must be inoculated or it is apt to fail; and much better results with clover follow if it is inoculated. Material for this work can be had if you will write me a few days in advance. It costs nothing and the labor is trifling.

The Sod-Fertilizer Method: If the ground is rough or stony or labor for the clean tillage method is not available, the sod method must be used. The orchard is gotten into permanent sod and plant food is supplied by the use of complete fertilizer; and the grass is cut (if possible) and allowed to lie on the ground.

Here again a thorough pruning is the first step, though it will not be as severe as in the case of clean tillage, since the ground is not plowed or the tree-roots injured.

A thorough spring-toothed early in the spring, preceded by a liberal application broadcast of grass seed, is the next step. After the new grass is up and while it is still quite young 800 pounds per acre of a high grade fertilizer, made by mixing two bushels of nitrate of soda, one 167 pound sack of 16% acid phosphate and $\frac{1}{2}$ bushel muriate of potash, is made. It is useless to include clover in this seeding, as the nitrate stimulates the other grasses which quickly crowd the clover out.

The best grasses for this work are those you already find in the orchard; they have shown their adaptability. This list will probably include Canada blue grass, orchard grass and possibly tall oats grass. Let the grasses fight it out, and the one best adapted to the system will win and make a heavy sod. Adaptable grasses may also be expected to volunteer.

The 800 pounds of fertilizer per acre costs about $10, or 25c per tree. In Ohio such an application annually, has resulted in returns of from $4 to $5 per tree from an investment of 25c per tree. There will be no returns the first year, however, as the

The Proof Is Here the Same As Everywhere.

For those who seek relief from kidney backache, weak kidneys, bladder ills, Doan's Kidney Pills offer hope of relief and the proof is here in Bedford, the same as everywhere. Bedford people have used Doan's and Bedford people recommend Doan's, the kidney remedy used in America for fifty years. Why suffer? Why run the risk of dangerous kidney ills—fatal Bright's disease? Here's Bedford proof. Investigate it.

W. H. Weyant, grocer, 243 W. Pitt St. Bedford, Pa., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are not a new remedy to me. I have used them off and on for years and wouldn't be without them. I have to be on my feet a great deal and also do heavy lifting and at times this brings on backache and other kidney ailments. A few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills always drive the attacks away. I hold a high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills and you can continue using my endorsement."

buds for that crop were formed the year before.

Pruning, after the first year, being for fruit production, will not be so vigorous; enough to keep a good open head.

Fruit from this orchard will be larger, firmer and keep longer than before renovation. Of course sprays must be attended to; and it will pay big dividends in the added price of the clean fruit.

If the orchard is not too old, by all means top-work the unprofitable varieties to such kinds as Grimes Golden, English Rambo, Stayman Wine-sap, Rome Beauty, Winter Banana, Akin Red, Canada Red, Whit Pippin, Wagener, Jonathan, Norton's Melon, etc. These apples are all of high quality and great beauty, and all of them will ultimately be sold in the standard bushel boxes at very fancy prices. Even in barrels they command a premium over our common sorts.

If you want to know more about these apples drop me a postal, and I will advise you where you can get trees and grafting stock of them, and tell you what it will pay better to grow them than the varieties we are now growing. In 1913 we average $2 a bushel for fruit of some of these varieties; and we are going to do better, we hope.

February 23—Joseph Rue and daughter, Pearl, of Crewe, Va., have been visiting friends around their old home for over a week. They expect to visit friends in Juniata Township this week.

Clyde and Russell Winegardner were guests of the family of Harry Feathers near Rainsburg last week.

Last Thursday morning twins—a boy and a girl—arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Miller.

J. E. Fetter and family and George Ake of Osterburg were guests of the family of R. C. Smith from Saturday until Sunday evening.

Celebrate Golden Wedding

On Wednesday, February 18, your correspondent and wife celebrated the 50th anniversary of our marriage. We had as our guests our six living children, some grandchildren and several friends: J. W. Hissong and son, Scott, of Windber, John and George Hissong of Canton, O., Wilson M. Hissong, housekeeper, Mrs. Smyth, and three children of Cessna, W. H. Feight, wife and three children and Joseph P. Allen, wife and four children of Bedford, Charles B. Yarnell of Windber, Mrs. Theodore B. Hamp of Johnstown, Mrs. Annie Mower and daughter, Anna, Mrs. Lizzie Amick, Henry Arnold, wife and two sons of Bedford, and Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Foorman of Schellsburg. Mrs. Annie Mower of Bedford, Mrs. Scott Dierl of Pittsburgh, Miss Lou Amick of Point and Mrs. Maggie Johnson of Birmingham, Ala., are the only persons living besides Mr. and Mrs. Hissong of about sixty who partook of the infat dinner on the 19th of February, 1864. The day was a fine one which added pleasure to our guests. The bride and groom of 50 years ago received quite a number of presents, consisting of money, gold, currency and silver and a lot of very pretty dishes trimmed in gold colors. The day was spent in conversation of the past and present. Mr. Hissong is in his seventy-fifth year and Mrs. Hissong is in her seventy-third year. Both are enjoying good health and have hopes of a long life in the future. It is certainly pleasant to have such a gathering after 50 years of a successful married life. There were thirty-five persons present, and count in the grandchildren, their wives and husbands, and great-grandchildren who should have been here, would have added twenty-seven to the number, mostly grown persons. My wife and I take this means of thanking the children and friends for their visit and the handsome presents.

LOCAL WOMEN AGREE

WITH STAGE BEAUTIES

Of all women in the world, probably those on the stage are most particular about their personal appearance, and especially in the care of the hair; and when such leading stage beauties as Ethel Barrymore, Elsie Ferguson, Natalie Alt, Louise Dresser, Rose Coghlan, Laurette Taylor and many others are so enthusiastic about Harmony Hair Beautifier as to write in praise of it, that is certainly evidence that it does just what they say it does—that is, beautifies the hair. There are many women right in this town, and men, too, who regard it as indispensable, because it makes the hair glossier and more silky, easier to dress and make stay in place. Sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. Contains no oil; will not change color of hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick, thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair; leaves no harshness or stickiness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinker tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us—F. W. Jordan, Jr., Bedford, Pa.—Adv.

Republican Party Needs Principles

Mark Sullivan in Collier's Weekly: The trouble with the Republican party as it exists now is that it has no principles, and in the present state of this country it is not leaders nor conventions that make parties; it is principles. The Republicans are now frankly that they have no principles; their position is that they hope for hard times, and when hard times come they expect to persuade the country that the Democratic party was the cause. The turkey buzzard is the appropriate symbol for a party with such an attitude toward the nation. The Republican position has been put into apt words by The Buffalo Times:

"There is no party at the present time which bases itself, as a party, on negation of the administration's policies. There are Republican leaders who try to keep the ball rolling by reiteration of outworn ideas, and there are Republican newspapers which seem to think it a party obligation to criticize the administration, simply because it is a Democratic administration. * * * They are clinging to a formula. They either don't realize, or don't care to see * * * that the people have walked away from them and their methods."

HAVE PRETTY HAIR

Thick, Soft, Fluffy, and no Dandruff—Use Parisian Sage.

If your hair is losing its natural color, coming out and splitting, or lacks that enviable softness, gloss and beauty, do not despair—pretty hair is largely a matter of care. If it is too thin make it grow. If it is harsh and brittle soften it up—lubricate it. If you have dandruff it is because the scalp is too dry and flakes off. Freshen up the scalp with Parisian Sage—all dandruff disappears, falling hair and itching head cease, your hair is doubly beautiful.

Parisian Sage, sold by F. W. Jordan, Jr., and at all drug stores, is just what you need—a large bottle costs but 50 cents. It surely makes the hair lustrous and seem twice as abundant. You cannot be disappointed in Parisian Sage.—Adv. 27 Feb. 21.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets

are, we honestly believe, the best remedy made for Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all other Stomach Ills

We Know They're Good

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, in addition to other ingredients, contain Pepsin and Bismuth, two great digestive aids used by the entire medical profession. They soothe the inflamed stomach, check the heartburn and distress, stimulate a healthy secretion of the gastric juice, aid in rapid and comfortable digestion of the food and help to quickly convert it into rich red blood, and thereby into flesh, bone and muscle. They relieve stomach distress promptly, and, used regularly for a short time, tend to restore the stomach to a comfortable, easy-acting, healthy state. They aid greatly to promote regular bowel action.

Delays Are Dangerous

Don't neglect indigestion, for it frequently leads to all sorts of ills and complications. The pain and discomfort is not the most unfortunate part. The fact that when the stomach is not acting right, the material needed to repair the wastes that are constantly taking place in the body is not being given to the blood, either in the proper condition or fast enough is far more serious. Nothing will cause more trouble than an unhealthy stomach! The blues, debility, lack of strength and energy, constipation, biliousness, headaches and scores of other serious ailments result from the failure of the stomach to properly do its work.

You Risk No Money

Our willingness to have you use Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets entirely at our risk proves our faith in them. Chaneyville

[Held over from last week.]
February 17—A foot of snow fell last week with the mercury about ten degrees above zero. Opening roads is the main work of today.

The stork brought Mr. and Mrs. Samuel O'Neal a boy on Valentine day.

About two weeks ago a cow belonging to George Ritchey was walking along the hillside just above his house when her feet slipped from under her and she slid down the hill and wedged in between the house and a stone wall. The cow died in that position. Mr. Ritchey, with the aid of six other men, removed a part of the stone wall and took her out.

Miss Daisy M. Dicken, teacher of Prosperity school, spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Olen Dicken.

It will be of interest to the public to know that Dr. Fawcett of Rainsburg will make regular weekly visits to Chaneyville. A good doctor is badly needed at this place as the death of J. Thornton Smith has left Southampton and Mann Townships practically without a physician. Dr. Hunt of Clearville is about ten miles away but he is too busy in his own circuit to serve many people here.

B. F. Boor has his new barn almost completed. Mr. Boor is the most practical man of the town. He has proved to be successful telephone operator, lineman, traveling salesman, carpenter, painter, paper hanger, barber and farmer.

William Roberts has bought the farm formerly owned by Emanuel Diehl of near Pleasant Union Church. Ephraim Hook sold a cow last week.

Miss Elizabeth Bartholow returned to her work in Cumberland recently. Many of the mail men failed to make their entire trip Saturday on account of the deep snow and snowdrifts which in many places cover the fences, and the lanes are full.

The time is drawing near when the voters of this State must nominate men for the offices to be filled in November and now, while the work is not pushing, it is a good time to learn all we can about the different candidates. The one who is honest, intelligent and temperate is a good one to vote for. We all pay our taxes and have a right to say where and how they shall be used. We have so many office holders to pay that much of our taxes never reach the object they were levied for. In West Virginia a man's entire wealth is assessed and all taxes are paid to the Sheriff at one time and he distributes the same to its proper place. The taxes are only about half as high as the land only is assessed and no matter what buildings and fences you may put on the land it does not change the value of it. When the land is improved in quality the assessment is raised, and if one man in a community does not improve his land in quality and the others do, it raises the value of his land and therefore he is taxed for his indolence. The reverse is true in Pennsylvania. Every improvement made on a farm raises the tax. In other words, he is fined for his industry while the indolent man's tax is lessened by his laziness. In Pennsylvania the rich may have millions invested in hogs, sheep and young cattle and young horses and not pay one cent of tax while the poorer ones may not be able to possess more than a few of these and pay just as much tax on a hundred dollar horse and a forty dollar cow that the well-to-do man pays on a two hundred dollar horse and a hundred dollar cow. What brought about these conditions in Pennsylvania? The majority of the voters voting for boss ruled candidates. The party in power for the last quarter of a century should know why conditions are so. Is it not time all good, honest people should get interested enough in politics to know and vote for clean, honest men for public office. There is this year the best chance for a change in State affairs since Robert E. Pattison left the Governor's chair.

Olen Dicken and Walter Diehl have filled their wood sheds "chock" full of wood expecting it to last all summer, but the ground hog has some more weather in store for us before summer comes.

The stork, Sunday, delivered a bouncing boy to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bowman. No one has said whether it came by parcel post or by regular mail but we all know an awful spell of weather came about the same time.

[Held over from last week.]
February 16—The deepest snow fell Friday afternoon and night that has fallen here for eight years, so it is said by some of our aged weather prophets, and they still predict that the winter's backbone is not yet broken. The majority of the roads in our community are almost impassable.

Mrs. Isiah Hoover, who had been housed up for the past three weeks with a sore hand, was removed to an Altoona hospital on Thursday. Last reports heard said she had made some change for the better.

Calvin Ellenberger was a New Buena Vista shopper on Saturday. William Deaner and Henry Ellenberger spent part of Friday with John Harmon and family.

John Glessner of near Downer, Somerset County, is wearing a broad smile but "grandpa" Richard Mowry is wearing a much broader one since a fine young daughter arrived at the home of the former a few days ago. Mrs. Glessner is the daughter of Mr. Mowry, one of our pioneer raccoon hunters.

Jacob Hillegass was a visitor here on Sunday.

Forest Hillegass was the guest of J. Mowry and wife for a night recently.

Harry Suder and Frank Mowry of New Buena Vista were seen passing through here on Friday.

Glenn Ellenberger was at the Henry McKinney home on Saturday. Ross Weyant succeeded in catching a fine red fox since our last letter.

Peculiar After Effects of Grip This Year

Leaves Kidneys in Weakened Condition

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited so many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are often very distressing and leave the system in a run down condition, particularly the kidneys which seem to suffer most, as almost every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to dangerous kidney troubles. Druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root is a great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, and, being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed in most cases by those who try it. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root, on receipt of ten cents, to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince any one who may be in need of it. Regular size bottles 50c and $1.00. For sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper.—Adv. Feb 6-4t.

FRIDAY MORNING, FEB. 27, 1914.

Democrats who wish to vote at the primaries must be registered and enrolled. The last opportunity in townships and boroughs is March 18; in third class cities April 29 is the last day.

William Draper Lewis, Dean of University of Pennsylvania Law School, is the slated candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania on the Washington party ticket. Gifford Pinchot is to run for United States Senator, Percy F. Smith, Pittsburgh, for Lieutenant Governor.

Penrose is the only slated candidate in the Republican party so far. Democrats won't permit of a slate. Democrats are not built that way. They believe in competition.

The killing of Benton, an English subject, by Mexican leader, Villa, stirred the people to a very high degree. Villa is averse to turning the body over to Mrs. Benton, which would have a tendency to relieve some of the condemnation. The act is not human and a shade disgraceful. The people generally think that Villa through sympathy, though the rules of war do not merit sympathy in a heated contest, ought to surrender the body and the people will be content to wait on a rigid investigation by the government.

GOVERNMENT RAILROADS

Alaska, if Congress acts favorably, is to have a railroad built by the United States Government. If this experiment proves successful, and it will, there will go recommendations to Congress for ownership of all railroads, as well as the ownership of telephone and telegraph lines.

These are all W. J. Bryan's theories and they seem to be coming to the front with wonderful rapidity. Bryan advocated direct election of U. S. Senators in 1896 and it has come to pass. Bryan advocated an income tax and it has been written in law. We remember well when Bryan returned from his trip around the world in his speeches he predicted that this nefarious robbing and stealing among railroads would have to cease or the government would control the whole system. The people hooted at the time, shouted socialism, insanity, vagueness and rottenness, yet Bryan has slowly and surely blazed away until today he is actually seeing it come to pass. No greater man ever lived than Bryan. Wilson's great but without Bryan, who has stood the knocks of eighteen years and come out whole, he wouldn't be able to see the future near so clearly.

The public press has been bought time and time again to lambast him and his visionary ideas but he comes back like a newborn only to make the money kings gnash their teeth and damn his skin. But Bryan comes out on top. He dealt them the death blow at the Baltimore Convention. Now there is a concerted action on the part of newspapers to down him again. Such fools! Bryan is the people's friend and the people will back him. No syndicate in New York, or the world for that matter, can ever overthrow Bryan so long as he stands for honesty, decency and sobriety as he has. No man in history has stood the test so long as Bryan and no man has so loyal a following, a following which would deem it an honor to vote for him even knowing that defeat was staring him in the face.

When it takes $40,000,000 to defeat a man, as it did Bryan in 1896, there is something to him more than "hot air" as his opponents say. There must be some stuff behind of which they are afraid. Think of the magnitude of that sum and then think of the magnificent vote he got against those odds! All the wealth and all the influence of wealth was turned against him yet he polled more votes in Pennsylvania in 1898—345,000—than Wilson did in 1912—295,000. In other words if Bryan would have been on the ticket in 1912 he would have carried Pennsylvania by 10,000 votes. Bryan and Wilson are the powers behind the throne.

You may talk about Palmer, Underwood, Clark and all the other illustrious Democrats but when you take Bryan out first and Wilson next you have spoiled the mush. Don't forget that fact. The New York World may berate Bryan all it wishes but Bryan has the New York World's editors skinned forty miles. Think of a paper praising Wilson and knocking Bryan when Bryan sits at Wilson's right elbow passing him tips on the crookedness he has seen and encountered for eighteen years. There is no greater scholar nor is there any greater teacher in the United States than Bryan. It is at the crack of his whip that these Congressmen jump, and jump right, too, for he takes a little jaunt out every now and then and tells the people what is going on. Papers are bought to cloud facts but you can't buy Bryan. He is the friend of the common people.

Paint or Not

Is a horse worth more or less after feed?

Hay and oats are high today; shall I wait today and feed him tomorrow? That's how men do about painting their houses and barns and fences. Paint has been high for several years; and so they have waited. Some are still waiting.

Their property drops a trifle a year and the next job of paint creeps up creeps up creeps up; it'll take more paint by a gallon a year; they don't save a cent, and the property goes on suffering.

THE DOLLIE M'DONNELL COMPANY.

The personnel of the Dollie McDonnell Company is as follows: Miss Dollie McDonnell, reader and pianist; Miss Lela Lowe, violinist; Miss Adele Lawson, flutist and vocalist; Howard Hanson, cellist.

Miss McDonnell, besides her individual readings and work on the piano, makes a feature in her programs of pianologues. She knows what to give that will please the public. She has a pleasing stage presence and wins her audience from the first. The versatility of her work is amazing and in all her work she is entirely out of the ordinary.

Henry A. Buchtel, governor of Colorado, says of her: "I have had the pleasure of hearing Miss Dollie McDonnell."

MISS DOLLIE M'DONNELL.

Donnell a number of times. She is a reader of marked ability, with a voice strong and pleasing, coupled with an ease and grace on the stage that are sure to win her friends. Her work is of a high order, and she is master of her work.

Howard Hanson appeared before the East Central Nebraska Teachers' association in one of his notable musical engagements, and the treasurer writes as follows: "Howard Hanson appeared before the East Central Nebraska Teachers' association held the 1st and 2d of last March at Fremont. To say that his audience was delighted is saying little for one so gifted in music."

Miss Adele I. Lawson, flutist and vocalist, traveled for three years with one of Chicago's well known ladies' orchestras. She has studied music since she was five years old and graduated at a well known music school with bachelor's degree, and received a teacher's certificate in voice there also. She studied on the flute with Quensel of the Thomas Orchestra, and Wremper of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra.

Miss Lela Lowe is a southern girl and an excellent musician. Her work is nicely described in the following comment from the Musical Leader, Chicago, of Oct. 17, 1912. It says: "Each year finds new additions to the professional ranks, and whatever be their particular meter, there is room for competent people. One of the newcomers is Miss Lela Lowe, a violinist of the Institute of Musical Art of New York. A delightful young southerner, her playing possesses the warmth and temperamental qualities that sway the listener."

Science Equipment for Juniata College

The management of Juniata College, at Huntingdon, put much effort in past years into the development of the literary side of the institution. By so doing they have made it noted for its success in debates and literary contests. Much of this success has been due to the securing and extensive use of the splendid library of more than 30,000 volumes and its large list of current periodicals. The Science Department is now receiving attention, and efforts have been put forth in the last few years to provide both an endowment and a suitable building to meet the growing demand for scientific instruction and vocational training. The first need was endowment funds that would provide for the maintenance of the work, and nearly $35,000 have been raised for that purpose. The Trustees have tried to raise an additional $30,000 with which to build an adequate Science Hall. After $10,000 had been contributed for this purpose, a friend offered to give $10,000 if the college would raise the other $10,000 and so make possible the beginning of the work before commencement, June 1914. Every effort will be made to secure the conditional gift by raising the $10,000 needed. It is believed that the friends of Juniata College and of education in general will rally to the support of the movement to raise this fund, and thus have a part in increasing the efficiency of one of Pennsylvania's most worthy educational institutions.

"A Mere Matter of Routine"

Editor Gazette:

Lord Bacon said that it was very easy to sit high up in the world's theater and criticize the ungraceful struggles of the dying Gladiators, and shrug one's shoulders and exclaim that but for this villainous salt-peter we ourselves would be soldiers.

So it was very easy a few days ago for the Interstate Commerce Commission to sit in their luxurious office in Washington City and say to the fifty-two railroads east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac Rivers, "that as a mere matter of routine," they would suspend for a further period of 6 months, or until the 12th of September, the rates asked for. What they in their ghoulish glee termed "a mere matter of routine" is of vital importance to the railroads. The commission in not granting the 5% increase in freight rates, as asked for, have smitten the railroads with the paralysis of death.

Within the last seventy-two hours the Pennsylvania—the premier railroad of the world—has withdrawn twenty-two passenger trains east of Pittsburgh.

Never since the Almighty hurled this old hulk of a universe out into space and set it revolving has freight been hauled so cheap or passengers carried at so low a rate and so safely as in this day and hour. In the year so recently closed the Pennsylvania Railroad carried over eleven million passengers and not one killed in an accident.

There was a time in the history of this country when it cost forty-two dollars to transport one ton of freight from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh. Today the railroads carry freight from one city to the other with lightning-like rapidity for a mere bagatelle, and yet the Interstate Commerce Commission is trying to crucify them. If the Commission had to earn their daily bread by the sweat of their hands and brains, like the average railroad man has to, their "mere matter of routine" decision would have been different.

Republican Governor Predicts Wilson Again

Washington, D. C., February 24.—Adolph O. Eberhardt, Republican Governor of Minnesota, in an interview here said that if President Wilson continues to make a success of his administration no other candidate "can come within 1,000 mile of beating him for re-election."

In 1912, Mr. Eberhardt came within 4,426 votes of having a majority over both the candidates—Democrat and Progressive—who were pitted against him. He was elected by 30,029 plurality. His term will expire January 1, 1915. He may be a candidate for re-election, but has not declared his intention. He is regarded as one of the strongest men in his State. He is distinguished, especially, for his hard common sense. He possesses a somewhat rare virtue in these uncertain times and "will stand without hitching." That is one of the reasons why the Minnesotans trust him; another reason is that he looks at conditions as they are.

"If things move along as they are now going, if conditions continue about as they are now, if the President should not make any serious break in the remainder of his term, there is no candidate that can come within a thousand miles of beating him for re-election," said Governor Eberhardt.

Jimmie's Valentine Ruse

By EDITH V. ROSS

"Ma," said Jimmie Wilkinson, aged seven, "how much are you going to give me for valentines this year?"

"Oh, dear! Has St. Valentine's day come around again already? It seems to me that it was only a few months ago that I was giving you money to buy valentines with."

And Mrs. Wilkinson remembered that three days after the day—the 17th of February—she would pass another birthday, and this year would bring a round figure; she would be thirty. She had lost her husband five years before, and it was beginning to occur to her that a single life had its disadvantages. There was no chance for her to marry again, because men never came into her life. She had one child, Jimmie, who kept her busy, for he was always getting himself and her into trouble. But Jimmie did not tell the whole of her life. She craved the society of one of her own generation, and it is natural for the sexes to prefer their opposites.

Jimmie got his mother into one scrape that appeared to be never ending. In a moment of weakness she had consented to his having a dog. A mealy creature of yellow color came whining about the door one day for something to eat, and Jimmie begged so hard for permission to keep him that his mother consented. That was the great mistake of her life. The dog was a barker. He would bark at those he loved by way of salute and at those he hated by way of antagonism.

Jimmie declared that he wouldn't stop the dog barking for the world. He said that the beast was splendid protection against burglars. Perhaps he was, for a warning, but Bob—that was the dog's name—was the most cowardly brute in the world.

In a house that backed up against the widow's place lived an old bachelor, aged forty. His rising hour was 8, but his waking hour was 7, for Bob was let out every morning at 7 and frisked and barked till 8. Mr. Barker, the old bachelor, hated Bob primarily; Jimmie, his owner, secondly, and the widow, Jimmie's mother, thirdly. Only Jimmie knew this, for Mr. Barker was too much of a gentleman to let a woman know how Bob annoyed him. Such was the status when Jimmie asked and received money for his annual love messages.

"I'm going," said Jimmie to himself, "to send a valentine to mamma from Mr. Barker. I reckon that would be a good thing for me to do."

The basic reason for this was, fear—that the bachelor would complain of his dog to his mamma and he would thereby lose him. Jimmie was interested in keeping the peace between the two. So he spent the principal part of the money given him for the prettiest valentine he could find and asked the man of whom he bought it to address it to his mother. On St. Valentine's day he left it at the front door, then ran around to the back of the house and climbed a trellis to his room.

"Jimmie," called his mother, "mamma has got a valentine. Whom do you suppose it's from?"

"I don't suppose it's from any one," grumbled Jimmie, "because I know."

"Know?"

"Of course I do. Didn't I see that Mr. Barker, who lives back of us, stealin' around the house with it and then run back and jump the fence in a hurry?"

"Why, Jimmie! You're fibbing; you know you are."

"Well, if you know better than I do it don't make any difference to me I don't like that old coddlegum anyway."

Mrs. Wilkinson could not at once believe what Jimmie had told her, but she had been conscious of being observed by the bachelor when she stood at a mirror near her back window prinking and he was at his back window shaving.

"Well, Jimmie," she said, "if I had a valentine I might be tempted to return the compliment."

This put another idea into Jimmie's head. If he should send Mr. Barker a valentine from his mother he would re-enforce his chances for keeping Bob. He asked his mother for money to buy another valentine to send to a little girl she very much approved of, and she gave it to him. This time the clerk who served him was a woman, and he asked her to address the envelope to Mr. Barker. Then between daylight and dark, seeing the bachelor looking out of a window, he ran past it to the front door, rang the bell and vanished.

The next day Mr. Barker began inquiries among his neighbors for some one to introduce him to the widow, and presently a lady asked permission to bring him to call. Mrs. Wilkinson, believing from the fact of his having sent her a valentine that he had been smitten with her, received him very graciously, and Mr. Barker, believing the same with reference to her, made himself as agreeable as was possible with her.

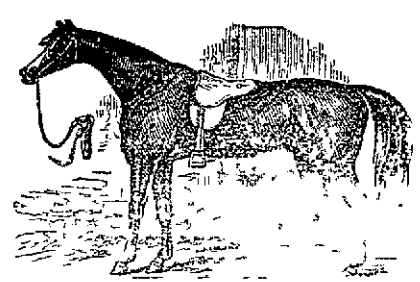

Mr. Barker was a frequent caller on Mrs. Wilkinson after that. He gave Jimmie candy and even petted Bob. Jimmie was delighted with the success of his ruse till one day his mother informed him that Mr. Barker was going to be his new papa. Jimmie was not particularly pleased with this new feature of the case. In speaking about it to a friend he remarked:

"Doggone it, I only wanted to keep Bob, and I got a stepfather!"

Hopewell P. O. S. of A. Celebrates

Friday evening, February 20, Washington Camp, No. 79, P. O. S. of A., Hopewell, and their mothers, wives, sisters and sweethearts assembled at the American Opera House to celebrate their 28th anniversary. When the call was given they fell in line 162 strong, as in the days of Washington and Lincoln, shoulder to shoulder, and marched to the banquet hall of the M. E. Church to do justice to the innkeeper. No words can express enough of the wonderful feast prepared by the Ladies' Aid of the M. E. Church. After ample time being allowed to do justice to the feast, the march was towards the hall again, where the music was in full swing for those who wished to dance, while the camp room was devoted to games and singing, and the renewing of old acquaintances. The glad hand of fraternity and brotherly love and the smile that goes the farthest towards making life worth while, were very much in evidence. Among the out-of-town brothers and sisters present were Hon. J. W. Huff, Dr. A. H. Evans, Misses Blanch Smith and Jennette Bradley and Mrs. Read of Saxton, C. Waring, Mrs. Iva Eichelberger and Mrs. L. Galaway, Altoona, Mr. and Mrs. James Grove of New Buena Vista, Misses Myrtle and Addie Zimmermann of Riddlesburg, and Miss Grace Ritchey of Brezewood.

The March Outing

The March Outing is full of interesting articles and information for the sportsman. Read the article by Warwick Stevens Carpenter entitled "What Happens When You're Lost"—it considers the real nature of the sense of direction and why it comes and goes, also the relation habit and memory bear to it. The sense of direction is one of the most important functions of the mind. Our very existence is conditioned upon it, and nearly every act of our lives is performed under its guidance.

Other articles are Dogs of the North, The Friendly Game of Quoits, An Ancient Sport in the New World, Fooling the Partridge, Putting the Boat in Cruising Trim, The Shanty on the Beach, Packack Luxuries, After Caribon on the Gander Spring in the North, Facts About Rifle Recoil, and there are several articles and stories in addition to these that will fill every requirement of the outdoor man and woman.—Adv.

Save Half of Your Lime and Fertilizer Bills

A new implement, destined to find its place on the most progressive farms, is a combination lime and fertilizer spreader, which has the following features to recommend it:

The feed is mathematically accurate and reliable; feed is regulated simply by adjusting a thumb screw; a roller breaks lumps before feeding; no metal parts come in contact with lime or fertilizer; material is discharged from top of hopper, insuring even better mixing where home mixed fertilizer is used; the machine handles materials whether wet or dry, fine or lumpy; the largest type of machine handles as little as 150 pounds and as much as 4,500 pounds per acre; the smallest machine handles from 100 to 3,000 pounds per acre; a tail board, costing $1, hangs down and prevents "dusting" of lime on a windy day; machine is equipped with a 3-inch tread, and wider treads can be had for a little extra; wheels are iron and steel, extra strong in construction.

"Hydrated lime" is really finely ground water slaked lime; it costs us from $5 to $7 per ton. Ground burned lime, by the time we use it is really air-slaked lime, nothing else; and costs more than hydrated lime. Good stone lime costs from $2 to $3 per ton. In other words, by using this machine, we can save over half of our lime bill, and save wear and tear on our drills.

Home mixing of fertilizer saves a good deal of money, insures the use of the highest grade materials money can buy; and we can save in labor by home mixing and spreading with this new machine over the cost of the ready mixed stuff, with the frequent trips to the wagon in the field for re-filling the fertilizer box.

Wholesale prices on this machine range from $45 for a model 6 feet wide in feed with capacity of 350 pounds to an 8 foot model with a capacity of 10 bushels, selling for $51.50. A machine will pay for itself in a single year, and then some.

We are going after prices in lime delivered at various railroad stations. We already have very low prices on high grade fertilizer materials for home mixing.

It costs $1 for annual dues for 1914 in our Exchange, and you are kept posted on all we have to offer at wholesale. You have to pay the Secretary 1% commission on purchases. This would make the commission on these machines range from 45c to 52c.

Don't put this matter off, your land should be regularly and systematically limed, not heavily, but often. Attend to this now.

Mummy Eyes.

Mummy eyes, as they are called, are taken from the bodies of Bolivian mummies, but bear no resemblance to the human eye. They look like glass shells with gilt inside, and in spite of their being solid, they are delicate and very easily broken. When exposed to dampness the gilt appearance is lost and they resemble a piece of yellow crystal.

Novel Idea in Road Making

Ruts are the bane of country roads and one farmer has experimented until he has found a way to eliminate them. The idea is simply to fill the ruts of a prairie wagon road with concrete. The filling should be four or five inches thick and about eight inches wide on top, the surface being followed out about 1½ inches deep for vehicle wheels, as shown in the illustration. It is easy to drive over, as the wheels follow the tracks "with first intent," and four years' wear on the experimental roads built by the originator show no wear nor corrosion. The cost is given as 10 cents per lineal foot—$528 per mile—and the roads are not only free-driving in wet weather but are almost dustless in dry condition.—From the March Number of Popular Mechanics Magazine.—Adv.

Scribner's Magazine

Richard Harding Davis opens Scribner's Magazine for March with a vivid and lively account of "Breaking Into the Movies." He tells a romantic story of how in his sophomore year a first voyage to Santiago, Cuba, and a visit to the American iron mines there made so strong an impression that ten years afterward he added a love story and wrote his famous novel "Soldiers of Fortune." Then it was dramatized by Augustus Thomas, and years later Mr. Thomas and Mr. Davis returned to the scene of the novel and made several miles of moving-picture films. This is the story of how a company of actors, with volunteer regiments of Cuban troops, detachments of United States marines, villas in Santiago, all united to make the record of a story which already has been sold to moving-picture places from St. Petersburg to Rio Janeiro. The illustrations and Mr. Davis' amusing text show exactly how it was done.—Adv.

Two Sides to the Shield.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says that married men live longer than bachelors because it is so easy for the former to increase their pleasures. When they strike a streak of luck they feel twice as fine as bachelors because they add their wife's joy to their own. A sophistical argument, which sounds well enough as long as you suppress the fact that bad luck goes double, too.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson IX.—First Quarter, For March 1, 1914.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Luke xii, 13-34. Memory Verse, 15—Golden Text, Luke xii, 34—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

In the last verse of the previous lesson He said, "The Holy Ghost shall teach you." On the last night that He was with them, ere He suffered, He said, "The Comforter, the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, He shall teach you all things. He will guide you into all truth. He will show you things to come. He shall testify of Me (John xiv, 26; xv, 26; xvi, 13), and many other things He said of the Spirit of Truth. But we are blind and deaf and so slow to perceive or hear spiritual things."

Well might He say of each of us, "I have written to him the great things of my law, but they were counted as a strange thing" (Hos. vi, 12). When He spoke of false teaching even the disciples thought He referred to bread for the body, and now here is a man, one of the company, so little impressed by the great truths of our last lesson and the solemn things of the future that he is more concerned about a bit of earthly property.

Is it not so still, and are not men, with rare exceptions so occupied with things temporal that they can scarce find time to give a thought to things eternal? How weighty and heart searching the Master's words, "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth" (verse 15). Since "covetousness is idolatry" (Col. iii, 5), how much we need the words, "Having food and raiment, let us be therewith content," "Trust not in uncertain riches, but in the Living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy" (1 Tim. vi, 6-8, 17).

How aptly and forcibly our Lord set forth the truth in the parable of the rich poor man who could only talk with himself about the smallness of his barns and the abundance of his fruits and his goods, and if he had larger barns what an easy, merry time he might have for many years to come. He seemed to have no thought of God, who had caused his ground to bring forth plentifully, nor of the poor, with whom he might share his goods. There was no one to be considered but himself. He knew nothing of the love of God and therefore had no love for God nor for his fellow men. "But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee" (verse 20).

Now what were barns and fruits and goods to him? He had to leave all and went out of the world poor indeed. Like the rich man of Luke xvi, 19, 20. How often we read of one who died at his desk in the office or sitting in his home or taken by an accident, and the words come to mind, "Thy soul is required of thee," and the great question is, Was he saved? and then, Was he rich toward God? It is possible to be saved as by fire and have no rewards for service, no crowns to cast at His feet (1 Cor. iii, 11-15; Rev. iv, 10).

A true believer may still be so blinded by the god of this world as to fail to see the advantage of treasure in heaven and so lay up treasure for himself in this world which must all be left behind when he is called out of the world. From verse 22 He speaks to His disciples, truly saved men, all but Judas Iscariot (John xii, 10, 11), and teaches them that since they are now children of God there is no room for anxiety about food or raiment. The kingdom is made sure to them (verse 32), and if they will now live to hasten its coming by living into unto God and winning souls to Him He will see that all things necessary for this life are given to them.

The teaching of verse 31 and Matt. vi, 33, is not that of seeking our soul's salvation, for the words were spoken to saved men, but it teaches saved people that as such their first aim in life should be the coming of the kingdom, for which we pray when we say from the heart, "Our Father, who art in heaven. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as in heaven." There is no use talking of extending the kingdom, for there is no kingdom to extend. It was at hand when our Lord was here, in their very midst in the person of Himself, the King, but when they cried "We have no king but Caesar" and killed their Messiah they caused the kingdom to be postponed till He shall come again. See carefully Luke xix, 11-15; Matt. xxiii, 39; Acts iii, 20, 21. We are in the age between the postponement of the kingdom and its coming at the second coming of Christ, the mystery hid in God from the beginning of the world, but specially revealed to Paul (Eph. iii, 9-11; Rom. xvi, 25-27). Seeking the kingdom seems to me to mean "counting all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus our Lord" (Phil. iii, 8) and making the supreme object in all church life, social life and business life, to make known in all nations as quickly as possible His great salvation for "whosoever will" that His body, the church, may be completed this age and the kingdom come.

Thus we may learn restful lessons from the ravens and the lilies and become rich toward God. As one has said, "Make thou His service thy delight: He'll make thy wants His care." It is no part of His service to entertain or amuse people, but the one great thing is to save souls.

DRAWN OUT POISON

Marvelous Antiseptic that Draws Glass, Wood and Needles From the Flesh.

It's a mighty handy remedy to have in the house in emergencies such as bruises, burns, cuts or scalds, because it kills the pain instantly. It's a medicine chest in itself—a little family physician that is ever in demand. 25c and 50c a jar at Ed. D. Heckerman's.

"All the truth in the universe is of no value to us until we let it begin to create facts." There was never a greater truth uttered. This is realistic in Palm City Farms, Fla., where men are utilizing the fertile soil and making the truth of value by tilling the ground to bring forth a wealth of harvest, which the balmy air, jeweled rain-drops and golden sunshine force to maturity during warm months and which crops of vegetables bring best prices at a time when it is impossible to grow them elsewhere in the United States outside of Florida. AFTER SICKNESS OR OPERATION

It is a pathetic mistake to accept drugs or alcoholic mixtures when nature craves nourishment to repair the wasted body and restore the vigor of health.

For forty years the best physicians have relied on the whole some predigested nourishment in Scott's Emulsion which is totally free from alcohol or opiates.

Scott's Emulsion sharpens the appetite—renews blood—nourishes nerves—strengthens bones and restores the courage of health to make life bright.

Scott's Emulsion sets in action the very forces that promote health; it is pure, rich and healthful.

Why a Cream Separator Speed Should be Regulated
"There! If you've been turning your separator at that speed all the time, then with your twenty cows you've lost $524.10 worth of butter in one year!"
The above is the astounding statement made by a dairymen authority to a farmer whom he had been watching operating his cream separator.
When you buy a cream separator you will find on the crank handle, in large, raised letters instructions something like this—"55 revolutions per minute." Or it may read 45, or 50, or 60; it varies on the different makes of separators.
Suppose, for example, that yours reads "55 revolutions per minute." What does that mean? It means, whenever you operate that cream separator you should turn the crank handle precisely 55 turns to the minute.
The manufacturer has tested his separator under every possible condition, in order to know the exact method of operation at which it gives the greatest degree of efficiency.
But how does the dairymen know how many times he turns it? It is just as impossible to guess accurately the speed of his cream separator as it is to guess accurately at other things.
At a first-class dairy farm the superintendent said he always "guessed" the proper speed. When asked how his helpers operated the separator he replied that, after he had broken new men in, they also could operate it at approximately correct speed. In order to prove his statement, one of his helpers was asked to turn the separator at the speed he usually operated it. The number on the rank handle read "48 revolutions per minute." But the helper made only 28 turns to the minute.
This proved how absolutely wrong the superintendent was in supposing that he, or any of his helpers, could tell when they were turning the crank handle exactly right, or anywhere near, what the manufacturer told them it should be turned. Here were pounds of butter-fat going to the hogs daily, just because he "guessed." And if he will feed calves and hogs with butter-fat worth 30 cents a pound, when he can feed them better on two and one-half pounds of corn meal and skim milk, then that shows how much the dairymen have to learn to get all the profits out of dairymen and farming.
At the Purdue Experiment Station, Indiana, very exhaustive tests were carried on to show the tremendous losses through wrong operation of cream separators. A separator was run at its normal speed of 55 turns to the crank handle per minute. Fifty pounds of milk were run through the separator. At this speed, it delivered 45 pounds of skim milk and five pounds of cream. This cream tested 2.11 pounds of butter-fat. When the speed was increased to 75 turns per minute, the skim milk discharged was 48½ pounds, reducing the cream to 3½ pounds. And the amount of butter-fat was slightly less than when the separator was turned at normal speed.
Next, a test was made by letting the speed of the machine drop down to that at which it has been found the average dairymen operates a cream separator, with the astonishing result that the discharge from the "cream" spout went up to 9½ pounds, but it tested only 11 per cent. of butter-fat—only 1.04 pounds of fat out of 50 pounds of milk, as against 2.11 pounds when the separator was operated correctly.
Dairymen are losing from 20 to 50 per cent. of their butter-fat with every operation. This is a matter of waste that is simply appalling.
Farmers should make an effort to count the revolutions of the crank handle so that the proper revolutions that are required for the greatest efficiency may be had and in return you increase your amount of butter-fat and avoid this stupendous waste.

Lippincott's Magazine
The March Lippincott's Magazine is a most interesting number. The novelette in this issue is "The Man in the Street" by Mary Imlay Taylor. Another striking feature is a remarkable paper on "The Dramatization of Novels and the Novelization of Plays," by Brander Matthews. "The Panama Canal and the Pacific Port," by Forbes Lindsay, is a special article that is timely and interesting. There are also seven short stories and many charming verses in this number as well as a motoring department, "Twentieth Century Travel" by Churchill Williams—Ad.

FAMILY REUNION
At the Home of Rev. H. McClintic at Montpelier, Ohio.
The hearts of Rev. H. McClintic and wife of Montpelier, O., were made glad last week by the home coming of their three sons—Charles of Bedford, Pa., Charles of Los Angeles, Cal., and George of Fort Wayne, Ind. A special dinner was partaken of Thursday, February 19, in honor of the event. This is the first time in over fourteen years our entire family have been together and it will be a day long remembered. The sad feature was father's inability to take his place at the head of the table, due to illness. Owing to a run down condition of the entire system, recovery is very slow, but at this writing he is some better.
I wish to say Montpelier is a beautiful little town of 3,500 inhabitants, situated in the extreme northwest corner of the State on the St. Joe River. It is quite a railroad centre, being a junction point on the main line of the Wabash. Here are located the principal shops of the Wabash system.
Pretty homes, well kept lawns, wide streets, cement sidewalks and good business places are all indications of an industrious and progressive people. One of the factories located here secures orders from many parts of the world. They make specially hardwood shelving, handy containers and devices used mostly for hardware stores. They also make compartment seed boxes for D. M. Perry of Detroit and other large seedsmen. These are the type of factories—making specialties, with the world for a market, I have always contended would be a great thing for Bedford.
There is an evangelist here and has been since February 4, conducting his meetings in a specially constructed tabernacle, with rough board seats and sawdust floor. He is doing his very best I guess, for he gets full houses. Has elevated seats for the choir back of the pulpit, fashioned after the plan of "Billy" Sunday.
Father has been living here since last May, but on account of poor health has not preached since last November. Moved here from Jonesboro, Ill., and has ministered to the people of Springfield, Ohio City and Orrville, O., since leaving his people at Rainsburg and Cumberland Valley.

OVERLAND $950

Overland Model 79

464 per cent. More Power

The famous Keokuk dam (the largest in this country, which cost $27,000,000.00) develops 310,408 horsepower.

The combined horsepower of 50,000 Overlands (1914 output) is 1,750,000 horsepower, or 5.64 times as great as this powerful dam.

This simple comparison is merely to show you more clearly, by illustration and figures, what 50,000 cars a year mean—what a wonderful force it is.

Such force is felt in various ways, the most important of which is the economy it effects.

Manufacturing, purchasing and marketing 50,000 cars a year puts the Overland Company in the supreme position of buying for less, making for less and selling for less—and the "selling" is what interests you most.

From any standpoint the $950 Overland is the lowest priced car made—size, power and capacity considered.

An Overland costs you 30% less than any other similar car made.
